Claims 15-27 are presented for examination.

The amendments and remarks filed on June 4, 2009 have been received and entered.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 15-27 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,329,425. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they overlap. The claims of the US Patent are drawn to the use of lipoxins as claimed herein for the treatment of certain inflammatory conditions. The claims of the instant application are drawn to a method of inhibiting inflammation in the body in general using the lipoxin compounds of the US Patent. The claims of the US patent are within the scope of the claims of the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Art Unit: 1612

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 15-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claims are drawn to “A method of inhibiting PMN migration across columnar epithelial and inflammation”. Such phrase is directed to the treatment of an unspecified disorder. In the absence of the understanding the disease to be treated, the artisan would not have accepted that applicant was in possession of the claimed method of use. The claims are also drawn to the phrase “wherein the lipoxin compound is an analog of natural lipoxin A4, and wherein the analog of lipoxin A4 has metabolic transformation region different from the natural lipoxin A4”. Such phrase does not meet the requirement of the written description for the reasons set forth on pages 4-5 of the office action of February 4, 2009.

Applicant's remarks regarding the sufficient written description for “a lipoxin analog” have been noted. It is the examiner's position that applicant on page 11, describes what an analog is, which can be a compound with different characteristics such as, having structural similarities, acting at the same receptor site and many other general characteristics. However, the specification fails to give an adequate written description numerous and countless compounds that are covered by such term.
